Dear Sir/Madam,

We are delighted to announce that Systango has developed a cutting-edge Generative AI-enabled Business Intelligence Platform. This platform facilitates document processing and dashboard creation using natural language processing techniques, thereby enhancing operational efficiency and decision-making capabilities for our clients.

Our solutions, namely Ylabs IDP and Ylabs Generative BI, are currently deployed and operational on the Google Cloud platform and can be accessed on below Google Cloud Marketplace weblinks:

- 1) <https://console.cloud.google.com/marketplace/product/systango-public/ylabs-idp>
- 2) <https://console.cloud.google.com/marketplace/product/systango-public/ylabs-genbi>

These platforms empower organizations to leverage the power of Artificial Intelligence to analyze data, extract insights, and generate actionable intelligence from various sources.

Ylabs IDP focuses on Intelligent Document Processing, enabling businesses to automate and streamline document handling processes such as data extraction, classification, and validation. On the other hand, Ylabs Generative BI offers advanced analytics and visualization capabilities, allowing users to create dynamic dashboards and reports using simple natural language commands.

Both Ylabs IDP and Ylabs Generative BI are offered to our clients as Software as a Service (SaaS) solutions. This model ensures seamless accessibility, scalability, and affordability for organizations of all sizes, without the need for substantial upfront investments in hardware or software infrastructure.

At Systango, we are committed to driving innovation and delivering value to our stakeholders through our cutting-edge technology solutions. We believe that our Generative AI-enabled Business Intelligence Platform will continue to revolutionize the way businesses harness data and drive growth in the digital age.
